IRON HORSE™
ACQUISITIONS

Via Email

Re: Iron Horse Acquisitions Corp.
Indication of Interest & Mutual Confidentiality Agreement

Good Morning!

On behalf of Iron Horse Acquisitions Corp., we are eager to explore the possibility of a business combination with your company in order to take your business public.

This letter confirms, on behalf of Iron Horse Acquisitions Corp. (the "SPAC"), the SPAC's interest in considering a potential merger, share exchange, asset acquisition, stock purchase, recapitalization, reorganization or other similar business combination (the "Potential Transaction") with your business (your applicable operating entity, together with its subsidiaries, collectively, the "Target").

In order to allow the parties to properly evaluate the Potential Transaction, both you and the SPAC (each, a "Disclosing Party") are willing to disclose to the other party (as applicable, the "Receiving Party") certain confidential information about the Disclosing Party's business, subject to the terms and conditions contained in this letter agreement. As used herein, "confidential information" means any and all information, whether oral or written, directly or indirectly disclosed by or on behalf of the Disclosing Party or its affiliates and representatives, including any financial information, patents, copyrights, trademarks and other intellectual property, marketing data, customer and supplier lists, contractual arrangements, business plans, budgets, know-how, inventions, tools, methods, formulas, software, pricing information and other proprietary information, excluding, in each case, information that is publicly known (including publicly disclosed information about the SPAC) or available through means not resulting in or from a breach of this letter agreement or any other legal, contractual or fiduciary obligation to the Disclosing Party.

Both you and the SPAC hereby agree, for a period ending eighteen (18) months after the date hereof, not to disclose to any third party any of the confidential information of the Disclosing Party or use any of the confidential information of the Disclosing Party, in each case, for any purpose other than as reasonably necessary to facilitate the consideration, evaluation and negotiation of, and planning with respect to, the Potential Transaction.

In the event of any breach of the provisions of this letter agreement by a Receiving Party, the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to, in addition to any rights or remedies which the Disclosing Party may have under applicable law, seek specific performance, it being understood and agreed that any damages which the Disclosing Party would sustain upon any such breach are difficult or impossible to ascertain in advance and that money damages may not, by themselves, provide an adequate remedy to the Disclosing Party.

Within five (5) business days following a request in writing (email being sufficient) from the Disclosing Party, the Receiving Party shall return or destroy, and confirm in writing (email being sufficient) the return or destruction of, all confidential information of the Disclosing Party in its possession, other than any copies automatically maintained on routine computer or email system archives, backup storage devices or other similar processes.

In the event a Receiving Party becomes legally compelled to disclose all or any part of the confidential information, the Receiving Party shall give the Disclosing Party prompt prior notice in writing (email being sufficient) of such disclosure requirement so that the Disclosing Party may seek an appropriate protective order. In the event that a protective order is not obtained, the Receiving Party may disclose, without liability hereunder, only such portion of the confidential information which the Receiving Party is required to disclose.

Each of the parties will be responsible for its own expenses in connection with the Potential Transaction, including fees and expenses of legal, accounting and financial advisors, except as may be otherwise agreed to in a definitive written agreement with respect to the Potential Transaction. For the avoidance of doubt, neither party is subject to any obligation of exclusivity by virtue of this letter agreement.

You acknowledge and agree that you have had an opportunity to review the SPAC's final prospectus filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on December 29, 2023 (the "Prospectus") and understand and acknowledge that the SPAC has established a trust account, initially in an amount of $69,000,000 (the "Trust Account"), for the benefit of its public stockholders and the underwriters of the SPAC's initial public offering and that, except for a portion of the interest earned on the amounts held in the Trust Account, the SPAC may disburse monies from the Trust Account only: (i) to the SPAC's public stockholders in the event they elect to redeem their public shares in connection with the consummation of an initial business combination (a "De-SPAC"), (ii) to the SPAC's public stockholders if the SPAC fails to consummate a De-SPAC within the required time period set forth in its organizational documents, or (iii) to the SPAC after or concurrently with the consummation of a De-SPAC. For and in consideration of the SPAC agreeing to evaluate the Target for purposes of consummating a De-SPAC with it, you hereby irrevocably agree that neither you nor the Target have any right, title, interest or claim of any kind in or to any monies in the Trust Account (each, a "Claim") and hereby waive (on behalf of yourself, the Target and any of your respective affiliates and representatives) any Claim you or they may have now or in the future as a result of, or arising out of, any negotiations, contracts or agreements with the SPAC and agree not to seek recourse against the Trust Account (including any distributions therefrom) for any reason whatsoever. You understand and acknowledge that such irrevocable waiver is material to this letter agreement and specifically relied upon by the SPAC and the SPAC's affiliates and representatives to induce the SPAC to enter in this letter agreement, and intend and understand such waiver to be valid, binding and enforceable against you, the Target and your respective affiliates and representatives under applicable law.

You further acknowledge and understand that certain of the SPAC's equity securities are registered with the SEC under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and that certain of the SPAC's securities are publicly traded. You specifically acknowledge (on behalf of yourself, the Target and any of your respective affiliates and representatives) that you aware that the U.S. federal securities laws prohibit persons in possession of material, nonpublic information regarding a public company such as the SPAC from purchasing or selling securities of the public company or from communicating such information to any other person under circumstances in which it is reasonably foreseeable that such person is likely to purchase or sell securities of the public company.

If the above is acceptable to you, please confirm by sending me a countersigned copy of this letter agreement at your earliest convenience, whereupon this letter agreement will become binding on both parties.

Thank you, and we look forward to exploring a potentially fruitful partnership.

Sincerely,

Jose Bengochea, CEO

ACKNOWLEDGED AND AGREED:

Tomoki Nagano, Chairman & CEO
INSTINCT BROTHERS Co., Ltd.